Shoot away to Cork

FOR a welcome break head for Ballynatray Estate near Youghal in Co Cork where a new simulated driven shoot, located in one of the country's finest estates, provides the ultimate experience or a great getaway with friends. Ballynatray is steeped in history and set in glorious parkland on the Cork and Waterford borders, with spectacular and breathtaking views across the river Blackwater.

Ballynatray's simulated driven shoot offers exhilaration and fun using an array of challenging clays. The traps are strategically deployed and send targets randomly at varying heights and speeds, replicating partridge, grouse and the highest pheasant. Guns will enjoy walking the truly picturesque landscape to four varied drives, with a competition before the final drive.

Ballynatray Estate is also available to hire and provides accommodation for up to 25 guests. The views are magnificent, unspoilt by the chaos of contemporary lifestyle and assuring guests of complete tranquillity.

Ballynatray can offer simulated driven shooting for large or small groups from now through to September. Non-shooting guests are also welcome to accompany groups. Alternatively, Ballynatray can provide archery for non-shooting guests. An afternoon's shoot in Ballynatray can be extended to a luxurious overnight stay if desired in one of the estate's many properties.
