Ballynatray Estate is not only a stunning property but is located in an equally stunning and idyllic part of County Cork. The drive from the main road along by the River Blackwater is so calming and peaceful.

The range of accommodation options make the Estate very unique. Not only can you live like the 'Lord of the Manor' in the main house, but the converted coach houses along with the utterly romantic tree house and boat house offer great alternative options for guests.

We headed out on a simulated game shoot and even though I was a complete beginner and a little nervous I really enjoyed it and even managed to hit 2 clays! The one on one instruction is brilliant. I can picture corporate team building groups becoming very competitive and there is the authentic feeling of being on a real shoot.

Lunch was a great display of how locally produced food can be done so well. The highlight for me was the selection of entrees of which pheasant was my favourite. The atmosphere was warm and inviting and the personal contact and interaction with the staff again gave the feeling of sharing someone's home.

This is a fantastic venue for smaller incentive or corporate groups who would like an exclusive property with a variety of on site activities in a stunning location. For international groups it encompasses what they love about Ireland - manor homes in countryside settings. For larger groups I loved the option of having a marquee on the terrace leading out of the house and on the lawn. This would be perfect for off site dinners or gala dinners etc.

On a personal note it is a stunning venue offering superb food for weddings and family celebrations.

Many thanks for sharing Ballynatray with me for a few short hours.
I look forward to recommending you through www.corkconventionbureau.com.
